

PRESS RELEASE

The lamExpat Fair returns to Amsterdam this spring

“Everything internationals need, in one location, on one day”

The lamExpat Fair will take place at the iconic Gashouder Westergas once again this spring. With more exhibitors than ever before, this year’s fair on April 4 will be the biggest we have yet hosted.

Bringing together local businesses, service providers and thousands of expats from all over the world, this event is an exciting opportunity for internationals in the Netherlands to find everything they need, in one location, on one day.

At this free, one-day fair, visitors can browse stands covering every aspect of expat life, from career, housing and education to family, health and leisure. For those truly wanting to make the most of the day, we offer a series of workshops presented by experts in their fields - which you can also attend free of charge!

Whether you want to connect with local recruiters, sign up for a Dutch course, finally get the ball rolling on that mortgage, or just pick up a few freebies, the lamExpat Fair promises to be a fun (and informative!) day for all. There’s even a kids area for the little ones.

We’ll be there all day between 10am and 5pm - and the first 2.000 visitors get a free goodie bag, so get on your bike! See you on April 4. We can’t wait!
